

Dear Friends and Fine Art Collectors:

With all the major improvements here at Vail Fine Art Family of Galleries, we are beside ourselves with anticipation for the coming Winter Season. We are well set up to welcome you to our beautiful new 4,000 square foot gallery in Vail's exclusive and gorgeous Solaris Building. But that is only part of our progress! We will be launching our new website and by all accounts and the effort that has gone into it, it should be spectacular. I welcome you to browse it very soon.

Jim Tylich outside the Metropolitan Museum of Art, Autumn, 2011.

I have introduced several new artists in recent months. Voytek is a major art instructor and a marvelous painter in his own right. His pencil and charcoal drawings are too good to describe. They are full of passion, grace and without doubt, show the touch of a master. Teresa Saia does some of the most beautiful pastel scenes I have ever viewed. Her work is very touching to the heartstrings. Angela Mia De La Vega uses her own children and her life's experiences to create bronzes that will warm your heart and make you smile in approval. Her series on the empowerment of little girls is a must see.

Richard Riverin paints spectacular scenes with a gusto and strength of color that is both amazing and extremely pleasing to the eye. Chinese artist Wei Tai paints Native Americans with a dignity and respect that is good for the soul of any sensitive person.

And there is more! Please plan on stopping by when you visit Vail, we would love to see you again.

Remember, you can now follow us on Facebook and you can keep up with my blog on our website.

On my new website I have now incorporated some beautiful video of the Gallery interior and of course explanations and some good basic information on each artist featured. But remember, all your old favorites are still here! Zakharov, Timkov, Hagan, the Garmashes, Anna Vinogradova and many others have sent us new works for you to enjoy.

Please enjoy our growth and expansion with us and please plan on having a nice cup of Java or smooth tea with us when you come.

Thanks for your fine support over these 23 years, we are looking forward to many more along with you, our valued collectors and friends.

Sincerely,

Jim
