Dear Collectors and Friends of the Arts:

We have now finished our preparations for a terrific Winter season of 2012/2013! We here at Vail Fine Art Gallery are very much looking forward to seeing you soon! We hope to delight your artistic senses with some of our new offerings and impress you with our new historical pieces.

Speaking of history! Many of you will remember the masterpiece by famous Soviet era artist Karp Trokhimenko. It is a portrait of three of Russia's most famous men, namely Feodor Shaliapin the opera star, Sergei Rachmaninoff the great composer and pianist, and Maxim Gorky the great poet and writer.

It portrays a meeting which these men held in 1905 in Russia and is a very historical and memorable piece of art. It is also over seven feet long and quite expensive! I have acquired the intellectual rights to this artwork and have now made a Giclee' on canvas of this most compelling of masterpieces. There will be fewer than 200 pieces in this premium edition of hand retouched artworks. You may call in and reserve yours now and you may also request a specific numbered piece from this edition.

I have done the same with the Danilevsky masterpiece, "The Steel Workers". The giclee' came out just as beautifully as the Rachmaninoff piece and they make a good contrasting pair. Both are hand retouched for a more realistic feel and the colors are fantastic as you can see in the included photos. You will truly enjoy the finesse of these artworks and the marvelous colors that show very well. These are a must have pair.

We are also proud to announce that we are representing fabulous figurative artist Henry Asencio here in Vail. His female figurative pieces are truly stunning and we know you will enjoy them. The amazing Post-Impressionist works of Michael Flohr will also delight you with powerful color combinations contrasting cool and warm colors in a masterly fashion.

As you may know, this is the 50th year Anniversary of Vail Ski Resort and it coincides with our 24th year of business as the Vail Fine Art Family of Galleries. Please come and help us enjoy yet another great Winter in the snow here in beautiful Vail, Colorado.
